

About Andrew Ceperley, PCC

Andy Ceperley is a higher education consultant and Professional Certified Coach. He focuses his life's work on the transformative impact that a college education affords students and the campus and industry professionals that teach, advise, and employ them. As Founder and President of Andrew T. Ceperley & Associates, he delivers a variety of integrated coaching, team development, assessment, and strategic positioning services to colleges and universities and their individual contributors seeking to strengthen their impact and realize their boldest professional vision.

Ceperley's career has taken him across the United States and throughout the world—as Assistant Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs at the University of California San Diego; Associate Dean and Director at Santa Clara University; and several student development roles at the University of Texas at Austin, the University of Virginia, and Claremont McKenna College. He earned an administrative Fulbright to study higher education transformation in Germany and Poland in 2005. In 2013-14 he served on-site at Australia's University of Melbourne, leading a campus-wide initiative to reimagine the institution's decentralized careers operations for students. And from 2014-2017, he served as expert consultant with the University of Iloilo, Philippines in the establishment of their inaugural Career Center.

Ceperley is an elected Board leader—he is a past president of NACE, the National Association of Colleges and Employers, and he was inducted into the highly selective NACE Academy of Fellows in 2016, in recognition of his impact on the profession. He is an author, speaker, facilitator, and member of several associations, networks, and coaching organizations—including the International Coaching Federation, the Modern Elder Academy, the PQ Positive Intelligence Community, and the Co-Active Training Institute (CTI). He is also an authorized trainer for John Wiley & Sons' Everything DiSC Workplace assessment.

Andrew T. Ceperley & Associates has been retained by a diverse constellation of colleges and universities—including University of Melbourne, University of Sydney, Loyola Marymount University; Emory University; Stanford University; University of Arizona; University of San Diego; University of California Berkeley, Los Angeles, Riverside, and Santa Cruz; Occidental College; University of Oregon; Oxford University; University of Rochester; North Carolina State University; University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, California State University Dominguez Hills; University of Washington; Hamilton College; Stony Brook University; Binghamton University; Temple University; University of Michigan; and the University of Pennsylvania, among other institutional and individual clients.

Ceperley is author of the new book, Tone Setters in the Academy: How to Build an Inspired Life as a University Administrator, released on October 1, 2024.
